

Sabina James is an editor, a writer, and a publisher. She writes horror, dark fantasy and erotica using her pseudonym SB James.

She lives in Melbourne, Australia. She loves B-grade movies, any kind of music if it's sung and or played well – anything from boogie-woogie piano to prog-rock, and jazz to speed metal.

She is pro choice, pro gun-control, and will shout from the rooftops that everyone should have the right to assisted suicide.

She is a staunch defender of equal rights, but feels political correctness has gone way too far.

She can be found on Twitter, and Facebook.
